

Loddon School is recognised as an outstanding school in both Education and Care of children and young people 8-19 who have autism, severe learning difficulties, are non-verbal and have highly challenging behaviours. The school allows each individual to thrive, to make exceptional progress in all aspects of their learning; consequently, being very well prepared for life beyond school. This success has been achieved by the highly creative approach the school has taken with teaching and learning and the strong impact of Arts in the PLLUSS® curriculum. Using Green Screen filming is fun but develops so many skills in communication, personal interaction, and creativity. Loddon pupils are now award-winning performers with local and national recognition. They love to make the films and delight in watching themselves on the big screen.

LODDON SCHOOL

Roll, Camera, Action – Being Creative with Green Screen Production

---

Using Green screen filming with children and adults with learning Disabilities, demonstrating how to use this technology to create mini films with great viewable qualities afterwards

---